ELKINS OWES $5,000 POSTAGE.

Copies of Senator's Speech Were Framed Through the Mails.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Sept. 23.—According to affidavits filed with the Post Office Department, Senator Elkins has framed the speech on 500 copies of a speech delivered 15 years ago at the opening of the Joint R. I. by permitting his name to be mailed in envelopes bearing the printed inscription "U. S. Senate Part of Congressional Record," stamped with the frank, Stephen Elkins.

The speech was made before the West Virginia Legislature, the same session of which Senator Elkins was chairman, one month after the adjournment of Congress. The speech was not part of the Congressional Record, and the mailing of it through the mails was a violation of law.

When the attention of the Post Office Department turned to the matter, the office of the First Assistant Postmaster General's office, who have charge of the violations of the franking privilege, admitted that the Senator had transgressed the law and stated further that the use of the name of his state without its knowledge was no palliation, as every member of Congress is supposed to protect his frank.

The law is very plain on the subject, and expressly states that public documents may be sent free—and further that the Congressional Record or any part of it may not be sent by mail.

The cost of sending these documents would not be less than 1 cent each, making a total of $5.00 for the whole, Elkins' debt to the Government.

It is strange that the Post Office Department can find no law to cover this case, and set could easily decide authority to issue an administrative citation, sent out by Edwin Atkinson, on which full postage was paid.

Representative Lounshazer, who is in charge of the Eastern headquarters of the Republican Congressional Committee, and under whose jurisdiction West Virginia comes, refused to commit himself as to whether or not Senator Elkins was guilty of violating the law without knowing all the particulars connected with the affair.

The other postmaster, however, is not so pliable, as he is responsible, as no particular provision has been made in the by-laws of the preceding officer of either house of Congress being called to the matter the culprit may be brought to the bar and remanded for conduct unbecoming a member of the lawmaking power of the land.
